Supervisor John Venditto's Oyster Bay Community Report

Decorative Street Lights for Downtown Oyster Bay

Oyster Bay hamlet's downtown has ten more decorative street lights thanks to the efforts of Town Councilwoman Rebecca M. Alesia, who secured $30,206 in Community Development Funds for the lights.

"The downtown already had decorative light poles and fixtures in Townsend Square, the parking lot behind the water district and along Audrey Avenue that were installed under various community and governmental projects," Councilman Alesia said. "The ten new lights will be installed along Audrey Avenue in the vicinity of Town Hall West and along the east side of Spring Street.

"An attractive downtown is inviting to shoppers, tourists and diners, not to mention investors and new businesses," Councilwoman Alesia said. "The Oyster Bay hamlet downtown is already blessed with a distinctive charm that the Town and other groups are trying to enhance. Small things like decorative street lights go a long way toward creating an aesthetically pleasing and welcoming environment."

PeerPals Honored
